

Lab 1

1. Build a Class component with at least one element inside it.
2. Build a Functional Component with one element inside it.
3. Build a Function component called “FunctionalProps” that have 4 props of “your Bio” and one element as children to pass from parent to child. (try to destruct props)
4. Build a Class component called “ClassProps” that have 2 props as courses you studied and one element as children to pass from parent to child.
5. Build a component that have two states called isloggedIn and subscription and their values by default is “false” and “Guest”, add a button when user click it the values change to “true” and “You now have a subscription”. (try to destruct states)